6:30 Dinner/ Talk from Dressing Room Chef

In late 2006, chef, cookbook author, and food policy activist Michel Nischan teamed up with like-minded actor and philanthropist Paul Newman to open Dressing Room – A Homegrown Restaurant – reflecting their mutual commitment to neighborly hospitality, local, natural and organic ingredients and regional American heirloom food. “We believe that the food we grow and cook in the place that we call home defines who we are.” In this spirit, we update and celebrate American heirloom recipes, support local and regional farmers, fishers and producers, by cooking food that recaptures the pure and simple tastes of natural and organic ingredients. “We also strive to raise awareness of a sustainable food future and work to reestablish a sense of community and a simpler, more homegrown time.” – Michel and Paul
